Parent Communication - Developing Positive Relationships

Presented by: Angela DeFazio,

BA, Early Childhood Education & Psychology

The success of your business, and the comfort of the children and families you serve, depend upon the positive relationships you make with your clients. Effective communication is the key to developing and sustaining those great parent partnerships. Join us in discussing how to connect and encourage the involvement of parents in their child's care and education.

October 22, 2008

A Day in the Life of a Toddler

Presented by: Pat Champeau,

BA Early Childhood Education, St. Joseph's College

Getting through the day with a toddler can be terrific or terrible. Come and learn how to make every day a terrific day for your toddlers and for you!

November 17, 2008

Creative Movement and Music

Presented by: Lisa Broderick, BS, RCYP

Yoga, creative movement and music stimulate young minds and bodies. Children experience spatial and temporal concepts through movement in new and fun ways. Please bring a mat or towel.

Merry Stressmas

Presented by: Pat Champeau,

BA Early Childhood Education, St. Joseph's College

As a provider, you must take care of yourself first. At this annual workshop, we provide ways to deal with the hustle and bustle of holiday time. Come relax, have fun, and network with your fellow providers

January 21, 2009

Minding Your Business

Presented by: Erika Abahazy, CPA

Running a family child care home is rewarding and challenging. Come to this workshop to learn how to keep accurate records, and run your business with efficiency. For attendance, you will receive a "Family Child Care" Calendar Keeper, a handy organization and planning tool.

February 18, 2009

Healthy Foods, Healthy Kids

Presented By: Janice Baunach, MS, RD, CSP

This presentation will cover the nutritional needs of children and the importance of establishing healthy eating patterns early on in life. Additional feeding issues will be discussed such as dealing with the picky eater, managing food allergies, preventing childhood obesity and more.

March 12, 2009

Preventing Problem Behavior

Presented by: Judi Pack, MA

Very often, the problem behavior of young children can be minimized or avoided by preventative measures. In this workshop we will explore ways to do just that, while emphasizing the child's emotional/social development in the early years.

April 16, 2009

Inclusion

Presented by: Gail Lazarus, MA

Presented by SPAN (Statewide Parenting Advocacy Network). Everything you wanted to know and didn't know who to ask. The law and your rights will be presented as well as the parent and caregivers partnership. Specific disabilities will be discussed and all questions will be answered.

Helping Families Find Child Care

All Registered Family Child Care Providers are required to complete 12 hours of training during their 3-year registration period. A Certificate of Renewal will not be issued unless all training requirements are met by your date of expiration. In addition, you must present current First Aid and CPR certification.

Research shows that continued participation in training enhances the quality of care that you are providing. Come network with your fellow providers at these monthly workshops.
